Survivor Benefits and Services for Veterans and their Families

How to Use this Pocket Guide

In recognition of the contributions patriotic men and women have made to serve their country, The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) expresses its gratitude for the service your loved one gave.

This quick reference guide, a product of the Office of the Secretary – Office of Survivors Assistance, provides you with information on the many benefits and services available to you as a Survivor of a deceased Servicemember or Veteran. It also tells you how to access those benefits and services.

We hope that this guide will be helpful for you. It does not cover every exception to the rules and regulations, but it presents a general summary of the benefits and services provided to you as a Survivor. Program and policy changes may occur after publication of this guide, and we encourage you to always verify the information to ensure that changes have not been made to published benefits and services.

Again, we are grateful for the sacrifices you and your loved ones have made.

Sincerely,

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs
Office of Survivors Assistance

Advocating for Survivors of America's Veterans

Eligibility

Who is Eligible?

- Veterans discharged from active duty under conditions other than dishonorable.
- A Servicemember who died while on active duty, active duty for training, or inactive duty for training.
- Spouses and dependent children of Veterans.
- Active-duty Servicemembers

Note:

The Veteran does not have to be deceased for a spouse or dependent child to become eligible.

Exceptions

- With certain exceptions, active-duty service beginning after September 7, 1980, as an enlisted person, and after October 16, 1981, as an officer, must be for a minimum of 24 consecutive months or the full period of active duty (as in the case of reservists or National Guard members called to active duty for a limited duration).
- Active duty for training, by itself, while serving in the Reserves or National Guard, is not sufficient to confer eligibility. Reservists and National Guard members, as well as their spouses and dependent children, are eligible if they were entitled to retired pay at the time of death; or would have been upon reaching requisite age.

Determining Eligibility

VA's National Cemetery Scheduling Office or local national cemetery directors verify eligibility for burial.

A copy of the Veterans discharge document that specifies the period(s) of active duty and character of discharge is usually sufficient to determine eligibility.

In some instances, a copy of the deceased's death certificate and proof of relationship to the Veteran (for eligible family members) may be required.

Determining Pre-Need Eligibility

VA implemented the pre-need burial eligibility determination program to assist anyone who would like to know if they are eligible for burial in a VA national cemetery. Upon request, VA will make eligibility determinations so that Veterans, spouses and unmarried dependent adult children may better prepare for burial in a VA national cemetery prior to the time of need.

Download the application (VA40-10007.pdf) form at:

<https://www.va.gov/vaforms/va/pdf/VA40-10007.pdf>

Appealing an Eligibility Decision

Veterans and other claimants for VA benefits have the right to appeal decisions made by VA regarding eligibility for national cemetery burial or other memorial benefits.

VA operates 137 national cemeteries, some of which are open for new casketed interments, some to cremated remains only and some closed to new interments. Burial options are limited to those available at a specific cemetery but may include in ground or in a scatter garden.

To determine if a particular cemetery is open for new burials, and which other options are available, contact the national cemetery directly, or go to: www.cem.va.gov.

The funeral director or the next of kin makes interment arrangements by contacting the National Cemetery Scheduling Office or the national cemetery where burial is desired.

- VA normally does not conduct burials on weekends.
- Grave sites cannot be reserved; however, VA will honor reservations made under previous programs.

Headstones and Markers

- Veterans and active-duty Servicemembers and retired Reservists and National Guard Servicemembers are eligible for an inscribed headstone or marker for their grave at any national, state, Veteran's or private cemetery.
- VA will deliver a headstone, marker or medallion at no cost anywhere in the world for the unmarked grave of any deceased Veteran. For eligible Veterans whose deaths occurred on or after November 1, 1990, VA may provide a Government headstone or marker even if the grave is already marked with a private one.
- Spouses and dependent children are eligible for a Government headstone or marker only if they are buried in a national, military post/base or state Veterans' cemetery.
- Burial in a national cemetery includes the headstone or marker. When more than one family member is interred in the same gravesite, both sides of the upright headstone are used.
- If a Veteran is buried in a private cemetery, anywhere in the world, the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) provides a headstone or marker.
- If the burial is not in a Veterans cemetery, the funeral home director usually orders the headstone or marker for the Veteran's family.

VA Vet Centers and Veterans Health Administration Medical Centers provide bereavement counseling services.

VA Vet Centers provide services to all family members including spouses, children, parents and siblings of Servicemembers who died while on active duty. This includes Federally activated members of the National Guard and reserve components. Bereavement services may be accessed by calling (202) 461-6530.

Veterans Health Administration Medical Centers can provide bereavement counseling to immediate family members of Veterans who died unexpectedly or while participating in a VA hospice or similar program.

Note:

Bereavement counseling is for immediate family members who had been receiving family support services in connection with or in furtherance of the Veteran's treatment.

In other cases

Bereavement counseling is available to the Veteran's legal guardian or the individual with whom the Veteran had certified an intention to live.

- They can receive counseling services as long as the guardian or individual had been receiving covered family support services.
- This counseling may only be authorized up to 60 days. However, VA medical center directors have the authority to approve a longer period of time when medically indicated.

Example of How to Calculate Your DIC Payment

This is only an example of what your benefits may look like. Your actual results may differ depending on your particular situation.

If you're the surviving spouse of a Veteran, your monthly rate would start at $1,340.14. Then for each additional benefit you qualify for, you would add the amounts for each payment.

Example: We show the total monthly payment for someone with 2 children under age 18, and who qualifies for the 8-year provision and Aid and Attendance.

- Total monthly payment for the first 2 years

$1,340.14 (monthly rate)
 + $332 (1st child under age 18)
 + $332 (2nd child under age 18)
 + $284.57 (8-year provision)
 + $332 (Aid and Attendance)
 + $286 (transitional benefit for the first 2 years after the Veteran's death)
 = $2,906.71 per month

- Total monthly payment after 2 years

(when transitional benefit ends)

$2,906.71 (monthly payment with transitional benefit)
 - $286.00 (transitional benefit)
 = $2,620.71 per month

Parents' DIC

- VA provides an income-based monthly benefit to the surviving parent(s) of a Servicemember or Veteran whose death was service-related.
- When countable income exceeds the limit set by law, no benefits are payable. The spouse's income must also be included if the parent is living with a spouse. A spouse may be the other parent of the deceased Veteran, or a spouse from remarriage.
- Unreimbursed medical expenses may be used to reduce countable income.

Note:

Benefit rates and income limits change annually. Check the current Parent's DIC rates at: www.benefits.va.gov/pension/current_rates_Parents_DIV_pen.asp.

Restored Entitlement Program for Survivors

- Survivors of Veterans who died of service-connected causes incurred or aggravated prior to August 13, 1981, may be eligible for a special benefit payable in addition to any other benefits to which the family may be entitled.

VA provides educational assistance to the son, daughter, or spouse of a Servicemember or Veteran. Dependents qualify if the Veteran:

- Died or is permanently and totally disabled as the result of a service-connected disability. The disability must arise out of active service in the armed forces.
- Died from any cause while such permanent and total service-connected disability was in existence.
- Was listed for more than 90 days as currently missing in action (MIA) or captured in line of duty by a hostile force or forcibly detained or interned in line of duty by a foreign government or power.
- Is hospitalized or receiving outpatient treatment for a service-connected permanent and total disability and is likely to be discharged for that disability.

Surviving spouses lose eligibility if they remarry before age 57 or are living with another person who has been recognized publicly as their spouse.

Board of Veterans' Appeals

Appealing Benefit Decisions

- Survivors can receive help with their claim and/or appeal. Help is available from national and state Veterans Service Organizations (VSOs), attorneys, or agents recognized by VA.

Note:

Find more information about obtaining a representative, including a list of VA authorized representatives, visit <http://www.va.gov/vso>.

- Survivors may appeal any or all issues in a decision by a local VA regional office (VRO) or VA medical center (VAMC) or National Cemetery (NCA) office. A VA appeal is separated into two main stages:
 - within the local VA office, and
 - continuing to the Board of Veterans' Appeals in Washington, DC.
- The two most common reasons people appeal are VA denied benefits for a disability the claimant believes is related to service or believe the disability is more severe than VA rated it.
- Survivors have one year from the date of the letter notifying them of the decision on their claim to file an appeal.

The Appeals Process

- If the claimant disagrees with all or part of the decision, they can file a Notice of Disagreement (NOD) with the VA department that made the decision (VRO, VAMC or NCA office).
- Following receipt of the written notice, the local VA office will review the file again, prepare a written explanation of why the claim was denied, known as the "Statement of the Case (SOC)", and mail it to the claimant.
- If the claimant disagrees with the SOC and would like to appeal to the Board of Veterans' Appeals, they file a "Substantive Appeal".
 - Claimants have one year from the date of the letter notifying them of the original decision on the claim, or
 - 60 days from the date of the letter accompanying the SOC, whichever provides more time.

Final Appeals Decisions

- The Board of Veterans' Appeals makes decisions on appeals on behalf of the Secretary of Veterans Affairs.
- Although it is not required, claimants may decide to be represented by an accredited VSO, attorney, or claims agent.
- Survivors may present their case in person* to the Board at a hearing in Washington DC, a VRO, or elect for a virtual hearing.

Note:

*Board of Veterans' Appeals Response to COVID-19

The Board of Veterans' Appeals (Board) is making changes to keep Veterans safe from exposure to COVID-19 while continuing its mission of providing hearings and deciding appeals.

Among other significant changes, the Board temporarily suspended all in-person (travel board, video and Central Office) hearings. Virtual hearings remain available.
